DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by

US patent No. 6,005,852 (Kokko et al)

1. Regarding claim 1, Kokko discloses a Load control method and apparatus for CDMA cellular system having circuit and packet switched terminals comprising a method for operating a communication system, comprising steps of: flexibly allocating Code Division Multiple Access (CDMA) channel resources (There exist no fixed allocation of resources but all of the resources can be given to either of services. This guarantees the flexibility of the system 10 in Fig. 1) between packet-switched shared channels (packet-switched channels, col line 18) and circuit-switched dedicated channels (circuit-switched channels, col 7 lines 16-17 in order to optimize system throughput(by dynamically/flexibly controlling load in the network); and employing a side channel as required to send all or a part of a total amount of data, depending on the total amount of the data (If the number of packets to be sent exceeds a threshold –depending on the amount of data- MS 12 sends reservation request –side channel- , col 7 lines 35-39).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kokko in view of Rotstein.

US patent No. 6,005,852 (Kokko et al) discloses a Load control method and apparatus for CDMA cellular system having circuit and packet switched terminals wherein a bandwidth allocation scheme allocates a set of CDMA channels for burst packet-switched channels, and where data is time division multiplexed over the set of burst packet-switched channels (an alternate embodiment discloses data being time multiplexed, col 11 lines 57-58) providing a wide bandwidth data pipe for packet-switched data.,

Kokko did not specifically disclose said subscriber stations being equipped with multiple CDMA channel receivers tuned to the burst packet-switched channels, as in claim 2.

However US patent No. 6,289,228 (Rotstein et al) discloses a Method and apparatus for reducing power consumption of a CDMA communication device, comprising a mobile device (device 104 in Fig. 2) including a plurality of receiver devices (receiver devices 122, 124 and 126 in Fig. 2), as in claim 2.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the subscriber station as disclosed by Rotstein to the CDMA system disclosed by Kokko to control the communication in the system by having terminal capable of originating circuit switched and packet switched traffic.

The motivation to do so is to obtain a CDMA system that avoids the problems associated with acquiring multiple channels to see in a incoming call is present.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 3-10 are allowed.

Conclusion

Applicant's arguments filed on 2/22/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Kokko does not disclose the use of a side channel by the MS depending on the amount of data. Examiner disagrees since Kokko discloses that should the amount of data exceeds a threshold, MS 12 request an additional channel sending a reservation request. See col 7 lines 35-39.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 2661

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
